St. Martha's Website Revised

by Michael Dragonetti

Fellow parishioners, time for a show of hands:

- * How many of you are online?
- * How many of you know that St. Martha's has a website?
- * Have you visited the site lately?

When you visit the site you'll find out all about our parish, from Mass times, to our social ministry, to our school—the St. Martin de Porres Marianist School, to upcoming parish and parish-related events, to our latest bulletin and our latest newsletter. Did you miss a bulletin from the past year? You'll find it on the Archives page. Did you miss Fr. Madigan's Anniversary or Deacon Trevor's farewell? The gallery of events page covers both, including major St. Martha's events from the past year. Can't get to Mass at St. Martha's? Find a church nearby which offers Sunday night or weekday night Masses by using our expanded links page. There's even a nearby church which broadcasts some Masses on the Internet!

From time to time we hear from folks who received many of their sacraments at St. Martha's but who now live elsewhere. This is a great way for them to keep up with the latest from their hometown parish. And for those who remember St. Martha's Folk Group, do we have a special treat for you --there's a page on the website with an album the Folk Group recorded in the 70s!

In the weeks and months ahead we hope to add other features to the website. We also want to add a webpage in Spanish, one in Creole, and one for our Youth Group to describe and promote their various activities.

As St. Martha's continues to grow what better way to keep up with your parish than with your parish's website? Please bookmark and visit often: www.saintmartha.org.
